

A PAIS BOOK TALK: Black History in the Philadelphia Landscape

With Author, Amy Cohen

BLACK HISTORY in the PHILADELPHIA LANDSCAPE

DEEP ROOTS, CONTINUING LEGACY

AMY JANE COHEN | With a foreword by Wendell E. Pritchett

May 7, 2024
5:00–6:30pm

IN-PERSON

The Shipley School
814 Yarrow Street
Bryn Mawr, PA 19010

AUDIENCE

All Educators, Middle,
Upper, and College
Students & Parents

5:00–6:00pm: Book Talk Presentation and Q&A
6:00–6:30pm: Author book signing and social with light refreshments

Black Philadelphians have shaped Philadelphia history since colonial times. In Black History in the Philadelphia Landscape, Amy Cohen recounts notable aspects of the Black experience in Philadelphia from the late 1600's to the 1960's. Each chapter explores an event or historical figure and how it is memorialized in the landscape – followed by a short list of actions to take to learn more about the topic. Also included in the book are reflections by people directly connected to the topic. Black History in the Philadelphia Landscape is approachable for ages from Middle School to adult.

COST: $35/adult; includes a copy of the book!
$25/Shipley educator; includes a copy of the book!
$10/student

Deadline to Register: Friday, May 3

CLICK HERE TO LEARN MORE & REGISTER!